Register by Sept. 3 to Save on E. coli Conference and Center of the Plate – Kendall College Short Course

Register for both events now and save. Early registration for these NAMP organized events is Friday, Sept. 3, just before the U.S. Labor Day holiday weekend. NAMP members are entitled to a discount for both conferences, but can save even more by registering early.

Your company faces tighter HACCP validation compliance by FSIS. Don't be caught unawares, which can cost your company. Prepare now. Learn what your company will need to do to meet new FSIS requirements at the E. coli Conference, Sept. 28 – 29, 2010, at the Four Points by Sheraton at Chicago's O'Hare Airport. Learn how best to improve your company's validation program from the industry's best experts. For more information and a registration form, click here.

Save by attending NAMP's Center of the Plate Short Course, Sept. 23 – 24, 2010, at Kendall College in Chicago. The short course is two days instead of three, costs less than the regular three-day course, and is in a convenient location in downtown Chicago, easily accessible locally as well as from throughout North America by Chicago's two major airports.

The COP Short Course is a great way to educate your top customers. Bring them to the course along with your company's team members. Send three people from your team, or from your customers, and you can send a fourth for free. For more information and a registration form, click here.

Reminder: Listeria Workshop this Thursday in Dallas, TX.

The day-long seminar featuring Robert Galbraith, Vice President of the HACCP Consulting Group, LLC, is offered by National Meat Association (NMA) and co-sponsored by NAMP and the Southwest Meat Association (SMA). For more information and the registration form, click here.
